

DENVER WOMEN'S WORK.

BIENNIAL CONVENTION OF GENERAL FEDERATION OF CLUBS.

A FINE PROGRAMME FOR WINTER WORK—THE JEWISH WOMEN HEARTILY CO-OPERATE IN EVERY MOVEMENT.

The Denver women are making great preparations for the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which will take place in that city in the early part of next summer. The leading lights of the Federation will speak on "The Spiritual Significance of Organization." It has also been decided that Mrs. Platt and Mrs. Ashley shall both make short addresses of welcome to the Federation. The Governor will speak for the State and the Mayor for the city. So, likewise, Mrs. Ashley, as State chairman of the Committee on Correspondence, will speak for the State, and Mrs. Platt, as president of the Woman's Club of Denver, the largest in the State, and chief hostess of the occasion, will speak for the city of Denver.

The visitors will be greeted by the familiar blue pine of the federation, planted in blooming flowers in the beautiful City Park, of which Denver is justly proud, and also the club pin of the Woman's Club of Denver, and perhaps others. The Park Commissioners have a happy fashion of thus planning to welcome the conventions of the summer when they design their flower-beds in the early spring.

The Woman's Club has just issued its yearbook, a volume bound in blue and silver, and artistically printed on thick, creamy paper. It is so far superior in size and interest to all former yearbooks that no comparison can be made. This is because the work of the club has ramified and deepened so wonderfully during the last year.

Aside from the literary programmes of the club and its seven departments there is a parliamentary and a business auxiliary, the latter giving good, practical instruction in matters pertaining to

THE TRIBUNE PATTERN.

A TISSUE-PAPER PATTERN OF A HOUSE WAIST, NO. 7218, FOR COUPON AND TEN CENTS.

In spite of the many elaborate waists worn, many women cling to simple styles. The bodice shown is stylish in the extreme and well suited to high or square neck. As given, the material is draped d'été in a lovely shade of pale blue, with trimming of black velvet and the neck is finished with a straight band of black velvet. The bodice is cut in a straight line, the square neck effect given by the trimming is also effective. The design lends itself particularly well to slightly open necks and is especially suitable for the winter season. The square neck effect given by the trimming is also effective. defeat of the school suffrage amendment, and said that, although women had not gained what they wanted, they had lost nothing and much educational work had been done. Mrs. Mariana W. Chapman, of Brooklyn, president of the New-York Woman Suffrage Association, told of how the women of this State had been threatened with the loss of school suffrage and had turned out in such numbers to attend the last school election that they had convinced the men that they wanted the vote. C. N. Euslin, of Orange, read a report on the progress of the cause throughout the world that was most encouraging. Mrs. D. de Witt reported the work done by the Essex County society, and Mrs. A. R. Powell reported for Union County. Reports of work done for the amendment were also read for the W. C. T. U. and the Grange. The delegates to the National Convention are Mrs. J. D. De Witt, Belleville; Mrs. M. G. Scott, Orange; and Mrs. H. L. Coolidge, East Orange. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, Plainfield, president; Mrs. Harriet Lincoln Coolidge, East Orange, vice-president; Mrs. Alice C. Angell, Passaic, recording secretary; Dr. Mary D. Hussey, East Orange, corresponding secretary; Mrs. S. H. Krom, Plainfield, treasurer, and Mrs. J. M. Pullen, Camden, auditor.

It is said that Miss Sylvia Green, the only daughter of Mrs. Hetty Green, America's wealthiest woman, will be introduced in society this winter by Miss Anne Leary, the old-time friend of Mrs. William Astor. Miss Leary has introduced many rich girls and women into the social world, women who have been educated in a convent and are Roman Catholics. Miss Leary's home is at No. 30 Fifth-ave, the old home of her father, who was a hatter and a personal friend of the first John Jacob Astor. Miss Leary is a New York social leader, and is inclined to be fond of society pleasures. She wears glasses and is said to have rather a studious look.

Mrs. Opp, mother of Julie Opp, has sent out cards announcing the marriage of Miss Julie to Robert Loraine. The ceremony took place on Thursday, November 4, in London, England.

The annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Woman's Legal Education Society was held on Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. John P. Munn, the president, No. 18 West Fifty-eighth-st. This is the society that founded the lectureship of the Woman's Law Class of the New-York University. No change was made in the board, the retiring members being re-elected and last year's officers unanimously rechosen. The Board is constituted as follows: President, Mrs. John P. Munn; vice-president, Miss Helen M. Gould; secretary, Mrs. Isabella Mary Petrus; treasurer, Mrs. Alexander Forman; Mrs. Esther Herrman; Mrs. Henry Dorn; Mrs. Lucette P. Hanks; Mrs. Henry W. Bookstaver; Mrs. Amy Harriet Lincoln Coolidge; Isaac and Miss Lucy M. Spelman. There was one vacancy and it was left unfilled.

The managers of the Messiah Home for Children met on Tuesday morning at the home for the transaction of official business and for the election of officers to serve during the coming year. Mrs. J. Wells Champey was re-elected president, Mrs. Emilio secretary, and Miss Catherine Stevens treasurer. All the working committees were re-elected, with the addition of Mrs. Minot J. Savage, Miss Gertrude Savage, Mrs. Maxwell, Mrs. Poole and Mrs. J. E. Roberts. The president described in detail the performance to be given in Carnegie Lyceum on December 29 for the benefit of the Home. It was resolved that should the Junior League be willing the performance could be repeated on December 30. A donation of one hundred garments was received from the Needlework Guild of America, New-York branch. Large donations of fruit and vegetables have been received during the last month, and the treasurer reports a small balance in hand.

AN INFANT TRAVELLER.

BORN IN EGYPT, SHE STARTS ON A JOURNEY TO AMERICA AT THE AGE OF SEVEN WEEKS.

Dora Eunice Giffin is one of the most travelled young persons of the time, although she is not yet ten months old. She was born in Asyut, Egypt, on January 15, 1897, and seven weeks later began her wanderings by going to Cairo and thence to Alexandria, distributing her time for a couple of months between those two places. On April 21 she sailed from Alexandria to Marseilles on a boat of the famous P. & O. Line, which means Pacific and Oriental. This is the line used by travellers to and from India, its route being through the Red Sea and the Suez Canal into the Mediterranean. From Marseilles the little woman went to Paris and from Paris to London and Oxford, and on May 1 she sailed from Liverpool on the Euteria.

Since arriving in America she has not spent three weeks at a time in one place, and wherever she has gone she has been noticed, her grandmother and great-grandmother, aunts and great-nieces, drafts, business correspondence, legal documents, banking, insurance, laws affecting property rights of women, etc. Parliamentary law is always a favorite study with Colorado women. There are also classes in physical culture, voice culture and dramatic art, under competent professional leaders, besides the chorus and the junior chorus.

The junior chorus is a new feature; its membership is made up of girls relatives of club members, from eight to eighteen years of age. Then, there is the kitchen garden class, under the auspices of the Home Department, and two lecture courses will be given, one on psychology, and the other on sociology.

The club programme this year includes the following subjects for its literary meetings: First meeting, in charge of the Home Department, "The Amelioration of Child Life," second, in charge of the Home Department, "A Study of Woman's Dress," illustrated with stereoscopic and models; third, reports from State and General Federations; fourth, Philanthropy, "The Curative Function of the State"; fifth, Science and Philosophy, "Influence of Philanthropic Thought Upon the Poets and Novelists of the Nineteenth Century"; sixth, Art and Literature, "Midwinter Night's Dream" (Act V); seventh, Night, "The Ideal Woman's Club."

But the object which is absorbing all the enthusiasm of the Jewish women at this moment is the Frances Jacobs Hospital. This was erected a few years ago by the Jews of Denver, and named after a philanthropic woman of their race. The panic came just as it was completed, and they have never been able to secure the funds to open it. The hospital board will turn the entire property over to the National Council of Jewish Women, if they will run the hospital. The local section has sent out communications to all the sections of the country, and is straining every nerve to accomplish the desired end. The hospital would be used as a National home for Jewish consumptives. If success is achieved this will be one of the finest works of philanthropy accomplished by a woman. Mrs. I. M. Appel, the president of the local section, is a woman lovely in character and person, who stands high among the club women of Denver.

The hospital board will turn the entire property over to the National Council of Jewish Women, if they will run the hospital. The local section has sent out communications to all the sections of the country, and is straining every nerve to accomplish the desired end. The hospital would be used as a National home for Jewish consumptives. If success is achieved this will be one of the finest works of philanthropy accomplished by a woman. Mrs. I. M. Appel, the president of the local section, is a woman lovely in character and person, who stands high among the club women of Denver.

THE ABSORBING OBJECT.

But the object which is absorbing all the enthusiasm of the Jewish women at this moment is the Frances Jacobs Hospital. This was erected a few years ago by the Jews of Denver, and named after a philanthropic woman of their race. The panic came just as it was completed, and they have never been able to secure the funds to open it.
